ENDEAVORING TO GIVE YOUNGSTERS EMPLOY-MENTTHIS SUMMER

Construction of State and Federal Child Labor Laws Will Be Asked As They Apply to Tobacco Stemmery-Prof. Caplinger Investigates.

There has been much discussion in Maysville since the R. J. Reynolds To- Barbour and Dr. B. B. Bailey, of bacco Stemmery started last week about the state and federal child labor laws as they apply to a tobacco stemmery. Many children who attend and it is certain that next year much school during the school term and more will be accomplished by the who are now out on vacation have sought employment in the stemmery but the management, although desiring to give the youngsters employment, have been compelled to refuse them work because of the provisions of the child labor laws.

There are those who believe the law covering children between the ages of perintendent Elementary Department, 14 and 16 does not apply to a tobacco Miss Anna Shackelford; Superintendstemmery while there are others who ent Intermediate Department, Miss believe these laws do apply and in Jennie Dickson; Superintendent Adorder to get a direct ruling on the ministration, J. H. Richardson; Sumatter, Superintendent W. J. Capling- perintendent Visitation, Mrs. R. Boling. upon to do and near what machinery they are expected to work. He will then make a full and comprehensive report of the conditions at the plant as he finds them and ask the State Labor Board for a direct ruling. Upon receipt of this ruling it will be made public and the number of youngsters who are now clamoring for work will know what they may expect and the managers will know how to proceed. Even though the law does permit them to work in this plant it will be necessary for children between 14 and 16 years of age to obtain a working permit.

HEAD S. S. ASSOCIATION C. & O. COAL DOCKS MOVED FROM HERE TO CONCORD TODAY

Maysville Loses Plant Which Gave Employment to Several People Here-Sstreets Will Not Be Blocked Long in the Future.

When the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company's Coal Docks burned at this place the company announced that they proposed to build it farther East for convenience of the road and to prevent the blocking of cross streets in the city of Maysville Shortly after that they began work at erecting a steel and concrete dock near Concord, Lewis county and it is now completed.

Since the burning of the docks at this place the company has been using a large "digger" with which to load their trains with coal on the site of the old docks but this morning this was discontinued here and the new docks at Concord were started.

The moving of the coal docks to Concord will ultimately prove distinct loss to Maysville as the pay roll of the plant is said to be something like $2800 per month and the most of the men who worked on the docks and were connected with the docks either lived in Maysville or its suburbs and this pay roll finally found its way to the cash drawers of the local merchants. For the present, it is expected that the men working on and about the docks and pumping station will continue their homes near Maysville but it is reasonable to believe that these families will finally move closer to their work. Maysville being the largest city in this territory much of this money will come here any way but much which would have been nearer the plant. One distinct advantage to Maysville in the moving of the docks from this city is that in the future there will not be so much of an excuse for the automobile trips between these towns blocking of East end cross streets. When East bound engines were coaling the city thus blocking the crossings in some cases for quite a while. This excuse will be entirely removed and Maysville's East end cross streets spent here had the plant remained here will now be spent with merchants

REDUCTION ON MINI-MUM CHARGE FOR ELECTRICITY IS MADE

Laws and Ordinance Committee of Council Draft Law Covering Gas and Electricity Contract-Minimum Charge Reduced Twenty-five Cents.

At a meeting of the Laws and Ordinance Committee of the Maysville City Council held at the Council Chamber on Monday evening the new gas and electric contract with the Maysville Gas Company was gone over thoroughly and the committee obtained a reduction of twenty-five cents on the minimum monthly charge for electric-

The tentative contract provided that there should be a minimum charge of one dollar per month for electricity but the committeemen and representatives of the Maysville Gas Company discussed the matter and finally the representatives of the company agreed to reduce this minimum charge to seventy-five cents.

Except for this change the contract presented to council at the regular June meeting and which was published in substance in the Public Ledger. The Laws and Ordinance Committee drew up an ordinance covering the contract as revised, thus for an- this year. other year settling the gas and electric question. This ordinance will be presented to council as a whole at the adjourned meeting scheduled for tonight and at that time it will be adopted and become operative.

The ordinance will contain the Great White Way clause and work at the building of this Great White Way will begin just as soon as the Maysville Gas Company can get the material and get the matter straightened out with the manufacturers and jobbers, with whom they have an understanding on the matter.

This committee also thoroughly dis cussed the automobile speeding over Limestone bridge and every membe of the committee felt ready to provide more legislation to cover the speedy City. approach to this bridge where a serious accident is, liable to happen at most any time. City Attorney Daly assured the councilmen that the city and state already had laws covering p. m. this matter that would serve admirably and it is understood that the city officials will begin at once the rigid

HIGH TENSION IN EUROPE AWAITING REPLY OF GERMANY

Enemy Must Decide on Peace or War Before 7 O'clock Monday Evening-Allied Forces Ready.

Paris, June 17 .- With peace or war o be determined before 7 p. m. Monday, the tension in Paris today recalled that preceding the opening of hostilities in August, 1914.

County Brockdorff-Rantzau was en route to Weimar today with a retinue of German delegates to present to the National Assembly the allies' reply to the counter proposals, submitted at Versailles yesterday evening. The feeling of the French people was illustrated by the fact that when the Germans left the Hotel Des Reservoirs for their special train at 9:45 last night a crowd of 4000 gathered outside, hooting the enemy representatives. This was the first demonstration against them in the weeks they have been in France Latest advices from Berlin and Weimar reiterate that Germany will not accept the revised treaty unless t contains important modifications. Through reports, the German Government has been apprised from time to time of the alterations, and in this way already is in possession of the main concessions. The optimism in allied circles which. ad been so noticeable in the last few days, changed today to a feeling of incertainty as to whether the Gernans will find the modifications sufficient to warrant acceptance. This ttitude was reflected by the public, attitude which eagerly scanned every yord touching on the situation. There were no demonstrations in the streets, and the people went about their business as usual, but the air was elecric with a nervous tension as the citizens silently considered the one

OUR POLICY

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason sty as a entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor idividual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to carnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

TARIFFS A LEGISLATIVE PROBLEM

A member of the U. S. Tariff Commission advocates a law which will "authorize the President to levy by proclamation additional duties on goods which are being systematically dumped into the United States, or to prohibit their importation in case he has reason to believe that the result will be to injure, destroy or prevent the establishment of an American industry."

There you have one more illustration of the grasping ambition of Cura is most valuable. The price is bureaucracy. More power, is the limitless desire, "Leave it to me," is bureaucracy's motto. Personal government, is the ideal. Government by law is not even a last resort.

Just think of the possibilities of a broad creation of discretion such as that opposed. Certain commodities are shipped in large quantities into this country. Persons interested as manufacturers of the same commodities ask for a proclamation against the importations. The importers oppose the issuance of a ban. Speculators lay in a supply of the goods imported at low prices and suddenly the country is taken by surprise by issuance of a prohibition order that shuts out further importations, increases the value of goods already brought in, makes fortunes for those who bought up the supply, and starts rumors as to some one having an advance tip as to the best time to buy, in what quantities, what commodities, and at what prices.

People who remember the rumors of fortunes made in the stock market a few years back by men who got an early tip on a Presidential note, will see the danger of repetition of incidents that tend to shake confidence in government. Creating opportunities for that Chamber of Commerce Is Called Upon sort of hing is hardly the part of wisdom.

The proper policy for America is to regard importations of articles that can be produced here as "unfair" to American producers. We should prevent such unfair competition by imposing an import duty at least equal to the difference in cost of production here and in the country of lowest cost of production provided the latter coun. try sells to us a quantity sufficient to be a menace to our home in- to the plan, to the Post Master Gendustry. But the rate of duty, the time and manner of its estab- eral. lishment, should be fixed by law, so that every person interested may have equal knowledge of the proposed action and the time when it is to become effective. The rights of importers and producers should to lack of efficiency but to demands be fixed by law and not be subject to the varying discretion of a with which even increased equipment President, especially one who believes in the "removal of all econo- and efficiency could not keep up. ASKED TO ENDORSE THE ELECTRIC MAIL IDEA FOR NATION to Put O. K. on Plan to Hasten Mail Messages.

The Maysville Chamber of Commerce has been invited to endorse to our Congressmen, "the Electric Mail" and urge him to give his endorsement

The business of the country is now seriously hampered by an utterly inadequate Post Office Service, not due similar condition in England required three years to get order out of chaos.

A new Post Office service is now service handled the letter-or card at both ends by the Post Office just as letters and cards are handled now but the contents are transmitted by wire between terminal Post Offices. The Electric Mail is the last word in Post Office service, as practically all other means of transmission but wire are now in use.

How It Works

Write a letter, put it in an envelope seal it, write "Electric Mail" on the Thrift Sunday is to be observed er, who died in Maysville, Ky., last stamps for the first 50 words or less outside and affix 25 cents in postage throughout the country on June 22d. In the Post Office the stamps are cancelled the contents of the letter wired to the distant city, there typewritten, put in an envelope, sealed. paring for a grand church rally at an properly addressed, and delivered by carrier or put in Post Office box or penses. So let all the members pay General Delivery as is any other let-

If ten words will serve your need. turn our attention to our local church ten words on a card and attach 10 cents in postage stamps-all else same as for letter. 10 cents additional secures special delivery for either letter or card.

This service will mean that you and your correspondent, hundreds or even thousands of miles apart can exchange 3 or 4 more letters or cards during the business hours of a single day as train time between cities, bagging, hauling, etc., are all eliminated. Post Office Savings

If adopted the Electric Mail while adding to Post Office revenues will lessen Post Office work as it will do away with the trouble and expense of putting mail into bags and taking it out of bags, hauling bags between the Post Office and railroad and the cost of transportation. CHRISTIAN LIFE IS SUBJECT OF

Dr. John Barbour at First Presbyterian Church Preached Wonderful Sermon Sunday Morning.

Dr. Barbour's sermon Sunday morning has been greatly commented on by those who heard it. We are able to give below a condensation of it.

The theme was Paul's Comparison of the Christian Life, drawn from the race for the crown. (1 Cor. Ix:25.) He said: In this allusion to the Grecian games you see the breadth of the Apostle's mind. He was by training and tastes a scholar, but he was more than that-far more. He was a man who kept eyes and ears open. He knew men, following them to their haunts and occupations and interested in their diversions. He culled from everything that men did for images and inspiration in his work.

We see here the breadth of the ministry. There is no calling which deals more generally with life, which touches men at more points which need to know men better or does know men better. We are often told that we do not know the worst side of men. We do not need to. To know the best side is to know men most deeply as beings made in the image of God.

we are reminded also that Chrisunity makes only such demands on men as are necessary for success in every undertaking. There is no undue hardship, no extra burden laid upon a man to become a Christian. He has only to follow the law of the race. The athlete of yore submitted to the most vigorous self-demals to attain proper form for his work.

Dainty fare was not for him. The pleasures of the wine cup must be eschewed, wearisome exercises by day and a hard bed at night. But out of it all he came a perfect man physically with clear head and responsive limbs and the consciousness of power. This he did willingly that at the end he might hear the waves of applause washing toward him from the multitude and might wear the chaplet ways. of parsley or olive or palm-a corru tible crown.

Now there is nothing harder asked of a man in the Christian life. Every successful business man illustrates the same principle. He takes a trouble in his business and practises a self-denial which would make a saint of him in religion. It follows from all this that religion is possible to all men. If I should say to one of those men preferring to batter each other in the prize ring, you ought to eschew liquor, to live a pure and continent life he would probably say, "Well that will do for a parson, but it will not do for a man full of blood and pas-

Yet for a passing victory these men processes abstinence and the hardest kill of work. They are on the role this hottest weather training for form. They are pounded and bathed and kept from softness and self-indulgence that the flesh may harden and brain and nerve be healthy. If one of our young men should go to a physician and he should write upon his little paper, "Live like a Christian for ten years and you will be perfectly well." He would reply, "You are preaching to me. I came for a prescription." "No," says the doctor, "I am prescribing for your health."

If he's a sensible fellow he will do that for his health sake. But why should he not do it for his eternal weal and happiness.

Self mastery is the law of success in everything, and there is no great usiness man who does not achieve it forgive my enemies." But he can and he does! He is glad to see them coming into his store and he sees them well waited upon, possibly invited to his house. But that is business-good politics. Take patience. Oh! the pashows with customers. Oh! the disagreeable people we put up with for their trade! Oh! the disagreeable work we do for money!

I want you to notice also that the forms of Christianity which make the most earnest and vigorous demands on men influence the popular mind the most. The greatest preacher of the century was Spurgeon, a Puritan in life, a Calvinist in theology. Men came in thousands to hear him.

Gifted men like Frottingham in New York, and Moncure Conway in London absolutely petered out. Only strong earnest truth draws. Oh! but Mr. Beecher, you say-well it was the truth rather than the novelties in his preaching which drew. I heard him one night preach on the hardening of the heart a sermon which would have fitted perfectly into an intense Methodist revival series. He was never so suuremely eloquent as when he was preaching the strong and earnest

The element of heroism is in all men. It is this which waked up in millions of men in the last war and it was strongest in men of religious nature. Sergeant York, the typical hero of the war came out of a religious habitat. He was unsophisticated in the ways of the world but when flung down suddenly in that awful fight with foreigners he was stronger than they because his heart was true and his body and brain sound.

Success in any place secular or religious calls for manhood and that is made in the School of Christ. "Whosoever striveth for mastery is temperate, self-constrolled in all things. Now they do it for a corruptible crown, but we for an incorruptible."

WOMEN AT WORK

During the war, millions of women have been at work in vocations into which they have never before been called .- in Munition Factories. Chemical Works, Metal Works, Street Rail-Barbers, and Elevator Girls. Undoubtedly thousands of others have longed to serve in this way, but because of female ailments, which had Evangeline Booth, Commander of the fastened upon them, were not able to do so. Women in this condition should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and find health and strength, as thousands of others have "The capacity-filled theater was silent as a tomb-even fans failed to move. Such is the power of Marshall Nielan's staging of this drame." - Herman Thuman, Enquirer. Boys From 16 to 21 Are Eligible to Enroll in U. S. Boys' Working Reserve For the Summer.

A very large number of boys in Kentucky are proudly wearing the Bronze Service given to them by the U.S. Boys' Working Reserve, a branch of the Department of Labor. This medal is given to every boy enrolled in the Reserve in recognition of 36 days' faithful service on the farm helping to raise food to feed the starving people of Europe. When the Reserve boy completes 55 days of service he receives a medal larger in size and for 75 days' work he receives the Honorable Service Bar.

All boys in Kentucky from 16 to 21 years of age are eligible to enroll in the Reserve for farm labor. Boys who live and work on the farms are as welcome as the boys in cities and towns who go to the farms. A large number of farm boys in Kentucky are already enrolled and many are going out to the farms from the cities and towns for vacation work on the farms.

Acting upon the request of the De partment of Labor at Washington, the enrollment of boys in the Reserve will continue until the late harvest in order that the nation's record crops may be fully gathered.

Any boy desiring to know more about how these medals may be won can write George E. Stephens, Executive State Director, 345 Y. M. C. A. Building, Louisville, Ky.

ENFORCE CITY'S MILK LICENSE ORDINANCE SAYS HEALTH OFFICER

Dr. Rice Says City Law Controlling Milk Supply Has Been Allowed to Go Unenforced and Makes Plea For Its Enforcement This Summer.

Dr. Rice, Mason County's Health Officer this afternoon issued the following statement:

In September 1917, the City Council unanimously passed an ordinance to regulate the delivery and sale of milk and milk products in Maysville. This was a splendid ordinance from the standpoint of giving to the city a supply of milk, which would contain the proper elements for nutrition, be clean and safe from a sanitary standpoint. During the year 1918 this ordinance went evidently out of fashion, no milk licenses were issued and hence no control or supervision of the milk consumed in Maysville. At the present time no one knows who is selling milk in Maysville, where it is being produced or how it is being handled.

Milk is one of the best food products used by human beings and contains those constituents which are especially valuable for children and babies. On the other hand it is a dangerous food unless properly handled and delivered to the consumer a pure pro duct. Milk is easily contaminated by filth and disease germs and is a known spreader of diseases like typhoid fever and the summer complaints of children and babies. Within the past three weeks a case diagnosed as typhoid fever in this county was investigated by the Health Department. On visiting this family it was learned that the patient, was living in surroundings that were not too sanitary. There was no privy on the place, but cows were kept and milked by this family and the cream sold in Maysville. Many stone street. epidemics of disease have started in places like this one. There is no reason why the people of Maysville should not have a safe and wholesome supply of milk, but in order to attain this end, it is necessary that this ordinance be put in effect and continued so. In order to have a safe milk for consumption it is necessary to have control of the supply and to get this control it is necessary to know who is selling and delivering it. The ordinance covers this point by requiring all milk dealers to have a license. SECTION 1. "No person shall bring into the City of Maysville for sale, or shall sell or offer for sale, any milk or cream, skim milk or butter-milk intended for human consumption without a permit or license issued by the Mayor so to do." By laboratory examination and the inspection of the milk and the dairies it is easy to determine where the best and the worst milk is coming from The people of Maysville want the best of everything and to have the best and purest milk possible it is necessary to know under what conditions it is being produced and what it shows on examination. It is the duty of the Health Department to furnish this informa-

Every man is proud of the goods he is producing or selling, stands back of them and wants them to be the best on the market and this holds true of the Dairyman and the milk dealer. This ordinance was framed and passed so that the Health Department would be a help to these men to put out a first-class product. The Health Department does not want to dictate to the milk men, but to co-operate with them for the improvement of their

This milk ordinance is supposed to be in effect now, but it is not. The Health Department to protect the public health asks that it be put in effect immediately and will go its part in making it do so. Licenses are to be obtained from the Mayor before the first of July 1919 for the year 1919 and the Health Department will begin the first of July to make inspections and investigations as required by this or-

The first step for the milk dealers and producers is to obtain their licenses before July first and conduct their business as nearly as possible n accordance with this ordinance.

The first step for the citizens of the city is to take an interest in the milk they are using by finding out if their Dairyman has a license to sell milk. An all together pull of the Milkmen, the citizens of Maysville and the Health Department will produce a milk supply that will be safe, sanitary
